Jancis Robinson (18 points) rates the 2001 and 2007 Chateau Lafaurie-Peyraguey Sauternes vintages as their finest between 1996 and 2010.

Robert Parker (96 points) personally rates the 2001 Chateau Lafaurie-Peyraguey Sauternes as their finest vintage between 1996 and 2006 but does not have personal notes since.

The greatest collection of 100s of the world's most lauded wine writers gather only on one international subscriber's platform - The Tasting Book. The amalgamation of these combined reviewers scores says that the 2001 Chateau Lafaurie-Peyraguey Sauternes was/is the finest release between 1996 and 2010.

For sauternes, 2001 was a dream vintage. Everything went right. Everyone, or almost everyone, made terrific wine. ...

There will undoubtedly be some great 2003s, but time will tell whether they will have the balance and elegance of the 2001s.

2001 Château Lafaurie-Peyraguey, Sauternes

Wow. This has a seamless texture and wonderful depth of fruit with dried pineapple, pear and hints of honey. Full body, very sweet and dense. Superb. Sliced white truffles. Fantastic.

96 points, James Suckling

Tasted in July 2021. Darker in colour than 1988 vintage tasted together! Thrillingly aromatic botrytised flavours, elegance and finesse. Incredibly rich, dense, and long on the palate. A beautiful example of this vintage's potential.

It tasted like that in March 2008. Tasted 13.5 years later – no significant change. Everything is in perfect shape and will surely last for another 15 years if not longer!

This superb, light to medium gold/green-hued Sauternes is a full-bodied, opulent, enormously endowed, moderately sweet offering with plenty of pineapple, peach, caramel, and smoky new oak characteristics.

96 points, Robert Parker, Robert Parker's Wine Advocate

Exotic and ripe with loads of tropical fruit and sweet fruit. Full-bodied, spicy and very long. Sweet and loaded with botrytis. This is a young Sauternes built for aging. Best after 2010. 7,500 cases made, 1,725 cases imported.

95 points, Wine Spectator

Pale yellow-gold. Orange peel, quince, honey and sexy oak tones of vanilla and spice. Chewy and powerful in the mouth, with highly concentrated flavors of creme caramel, honey and exotic spices. Finishes very long, honeyed and powerful, not to mention flamboyantly aromatic.

93 points, Stephen Tanzer's International Wine Cellar

With layers of sweet, ripe, tropical pineapple, apricots, orange, peach, vanilla and honey, this medium/full bodied sweet, Bordeaux wine offers a juicy mouthful of rich, spicy, honey coated nuts and ripe yellow fruits. This is a Sauternes I enjoy drinking during its first two decades of life. This is probably not a wine to hold for longer periods of time.

93 Points, The Wine Cellar Insider

From a great vintage for sweet white bordeaux, this was extremely sweet and rich. Seemed to have such density that a long life lies ahead.

18 points, Jancis Robinson
